

Joshua M. Carney, P.E.
President
Carney Engineering Group

Joshua M. Carney, P.E., is President and Owner of Carney Engineering Group (CEG), a multi-discipline engineering firm headquartered in York, PA. Josh founded CEG in 2009 and supervises the firm's structural and forensic engineering work. He also oversees firm management, business development, and top-level project management. He has more than 20 years' experience in structural engineering, specializing in historic renovation and preservation, forensic engineering and analysis, long-span steel structures, design/build, and Integrated Project Delivery.

He is actively involved in the York community, with a particular focus on education initiatives. He currently serves as board chair for Working Class makerspace, on Crispus Attucks Association's Real Estate Portfolio Management Committee, and as committee chair for York Suburban School District's Impact Foundation. He founded the ACE Mentoring Program's Central PA affiliate and served as chair, and has served on the boards of directors for the United Way of York County, Childcare Consultants, York Suburban Education Foundation, and Leadership York. Other involvement has included serving on Junior Achievement of South Central Pennsylvania's Regional Council, the United Way of York County's Focus On Our Future early childhood education initiative, and various trade organizations, including past president of the Lincoln Chapter of the Pennsylvania Society of Professional Engineers and vice chair of the York County Board of Construction Appeals.

He is a graduate of Leadership York's Leadership Training Program and Mentorship York program and a recipient of the American Society of Professional Engineers Young Engineer of the Year award.